191,726,678 Fish of Various Rinds Hatched ass Planted in Public Waters, Including Sunapre and Steelhended Trout-Spawa-ing Grounds of Salmon in the Hudson. ALBANY, Jan. 28. The annual report of the

Since Fisheries, Game and Forest Commission was to-day submitted to the Legislature. During the year the commission hatched and planted in public waters in the State 191,726,are fish of various kinds, all the eggs having been taken from stock fish at the hatching sta tion ponds, or secured from wild waters in the State. The fish were hatched and distributed statutal cost of 19.6 cents per thousand. The commission reared and planted 130,400 trout eight and ten months of age, and 14,858 trout from twelve to eighteen months of age, or a total of 144, sair above the age of what are commonly called fingerlings.
In addition to the fish hatched and distributed from the State hatcheries, the United States Commission distributed to the State 27,417,533 fish and eggs, the eggs being hatched at the State hatcheries, making a grand total of 219,144,211 fish of all kinds planted in State waters during the year. The report says:

In our last report we recommonded that an appropriation of $15,000 be made to establish a hatching station or stations on one or more of the interior lakes for the purpose of hatching that are termed commercial fishes, the site or sites of suon hatching station or stations be selected by the Commissioners, The increase in the output of commercial fishes from the State hatcheries for 1806 was more than 34,000,000 over that of 1805. For the first time a systematic attempt has been made to cultivate the Labrador whiteash, one of the most delicious of the whitefishes, and 250,000 eggs were taken at a temperary station at Canandaigus Lak' and hatched at Caledonia.

Since the close of the fiscal year further operations have been conducted at Canandaigus Lake on a greater scale, and 13,160,000 shitefish were hatched at Caledonia from eggs taken in this lake, showing the possibilities of his branch of fish culture should a perfectly appointed hatching station be erected.

We again earnestly recommend that power term of years, not exceeding five, whe win the adgment of the Commissioners, it is ne essary o close streams for nursery purposes, or to establish or recetablish fish in such waters.

"During the past year the commission has strained from the New Hampshire Fish Commission a number of adult Sunapee trout and planted them in public waters in this State. We have also obtained from the United States Visa Commission 75,000 eggs of the steelhead trout from the Pacific coast and hatched and planted them in State waters. Another new fish obtained during the past year from a lot of eggs sent to the national Government by the waters of the upper Hudson River annually until the total plantings amount to about 3,500,000, and the Government has furnished 100,000 eggs to be hatched and planted the coming spring. I sams and falls in the river have prevented the salmon on their return from the sea ascending to their natural spawning grounds, where they were planted as baby fish, and they have been obliged to seek clear water and gravel tests wherever they could be found tegether for spawning purposes. Where these seaming grounds were located was not determined to the same of the and graveliasts whereaver they could be found tegether for spanning purposes. Where these spanning grounds were located was not determined until last autumn, when it was found by the commission that saimon were running up latingsion Creek, on the left branch of the Russon, below lithilings station of the New York Central and Hudson River Italizad, where they found clear, cold water and gravel bottom, in what was once a famous trout stream. It is the intention of the commission to visit this stream tive. In spite of the law to the contrary, it has been tound that the salmon were speared on their beds or while making their vay undivingsion Creek to their beds, and it is recommended that the stream be closed for a term Pearsic esasie the commission to use it a value of the property of the provided to open the upper Hudson River to the salmon by building fish ways in the dams and over the falls between Troy and Luzerne.

TUCKER'S $30,000 GRIEVANCE. Roboken Polities in a Club Lend to Three

As the result of a political wrangle in the German-American Citizens' Verein of Hoboken, Joseph Tucker, a former member, has begun three suits, asking in each $10,000 as a balm for damages by defamation of character. The defendants are Adolph A. Lankering, President of the club: Fire Commissioner F. William Bender, and B.J. Bandholz, Tucker and F. Szontag were expelled from the organization on Wednesday night on charges of attempting to sell the political support of the club. Both men were tried by an investigating committee. The complaint, it is alleged, was made before the club by Fire Comm's slower Bender. Mr. Tucker SAYS:

I met Mr. Szor (ag on Friday evening, Jan. 15, after attending a meeting of the club, and he confided to me that Mr. Bender was using him in a financial way very shabbily, and that he would not pull the chestnuts out of the fire for Mr. Bender as he had in other campaigns. He would not do the work and get nothing for it, and he declared that hereafter if he did any work money must be forthcoming. He asked me what I thought of it, and I told him to go ahead. It was my impression that he was trying to sound me, and to find out his real motive I told him I would do what he thought best. The following Monday I received a letter from Mr. Szontag containing the statement that a certain party would give $200 if the society could be made independent instead of Democratic. He also asked me to call and see him. I went to his dyeing establishment on Washington street and asked him who the party was He refused to mention names. He told me confidentially that if I would take the letter to Robert Davis, a prominent Democrat in Jersey City, or to Michael J. Coyle, a Democratic politician of Hoboken, they would probably advance some money to make the organization Democratic. Not knowing whether he was planning a trap for me I took the letter, but did not show it to any one. I simply waited to see what would come out of Szontag's scheme. He asked me why I didn't go to see Mr. Davis or Mr. Coyle, and I only laughed at him. Szontag became frightened, thinking that I would expose him, and to forestall me he went to Mr. Bender and told the whole story of the existence of the letter; said that I had originated it, had circulated it, and had proposed the scheme. I went to Szontag afterward and asked him what he was trying to do with me, and he accused me of playing a trick on him. While I was talking to him in his store I heard a noise behind a curtain over a door leading to an adjoining room. I asked who was in the room, and he replied, "My wife." I pulled the curtain aside and found B. J. Handolz, one of the investigating committee, taking town our conversation." money to make the organization Democratic. our conversation."
Tucker says he had never thought of selling the organization, and he believes it was a trick to out thim from the club. Fire Commis-sioner Bender is a candidate for the nomination for Mayor at the coming spring election.

FIREMAN LIDDELL IS DEAD. Louis Mann, the Jersey City Firebug,

Stands Accused of Marder. Thomas D. Liddell, the fireman who was mortally injured by the fall of a ladder at the fire at Jersey avenue and Canal street, Jersey City, on Monday night, died yesterday morning in the City Hospital. His spine was injured and he was paralyzed from the waist down. Louis Mann, the self-confessed firebug, who set fire to the building, was rearraigned before Police Justice Potts when the police were notineg of Liddell's death and formally charged with murder. There was a difference of opinion as to what the charge should be, thief of Police Murphy was of the opinion that the charge should be manslaughter, as Liddell's death resulted from an accident while he was outside of the building in the performance of obtained it the chiming in the performance of his duty as a fireman. Judge Potts decided, however, that the proper charge was murder, and so it was entered.

Mann is a stolid-looking German. His face does not indicate any particular intelligence. He is completely prostrated and continually bemoans his hard lot. His appearance and the appearance of his two sons, who will be witnesses against him, indicate dire poverty, and it is thought that his story that he set fire to the premises because the insurance money would keep him and his sons from starving may be true. He was committed to the county jail yesterday to await the action of the Grand Jury. Meanwhile the police will investigate his record, as they suspect that he has set other fires for the purpose of getting the insurance.

Littled was born in Bloomfield. N. J., fortyeight years ago. He was the son of a Scotch minister. He was a painter by trade, but had been in the Police and Fire departments. He specific two legacies, one of $10,000 and another of $20,000, which were left to him by relatives. He leaves a widow and three daughters, two of whom are married. The funeral will take place on next Sunday afternoon, and services will be held in the Tabernacie. his duty as a fireman. Judge Potts decided,

Rutgers Sophs Have Their Banquet Ap-

NEW BRUNSWICK, Jan. 28.-While going to their annual class dinner five sophomores of Rutgers College were kidnapped last night by a crowd of freshmen, and had to undergo indigtitles that made them very late at the banquet, besides making them decidedly unhappy. The victims were James MacDonald Martin of East Orange, George W. Ecker of Albany, Samuel W. Cuddeback of Port Jervis, A. H. Shearer of Philadelphia, and William L. R. Haines of Newark. Martin and Ecker, who attempted to escape, were gagged with handkerchiefs and tied to posts in Cotlege avenue, where the freshmen deserted them in the blinding snowstorm. The other three men were taken in a trolley car to Militown and were walked from there to South River, a distance of four miles.

At South River, the sophomores were taken to a grocery slore, where, seated in a connter, they were comtelled to eat crackers and cheese. After they had danced and sung for the freshmen, and made speeches lauding the underclassmen, the victims were brought back to this city and allowed to go to the banquet. Martin and Ecker had been rescued some time before and escoried to the banquet room, where they were warmed with wine. The sophomores, however, partly evened the score for the night by canturing II. D. Rapaile, a freshman, and taking him a prisoner to the banquet. They forced him to sit in a chair at the table there and eat bread and milk from a spoon. The other three men were taken in a troller car
